There's a lot of death in a barrel of oil.

One barrel holds 42 gallons of crude oil, but yields merely 19.4 gallons of gasoline. Twenty-eight people hold the same amount—of blood. The next time you fill up, think about those overseas whose lives you've just traded for that tank of gas.

And let's all work together to bring them home alive.

BloodForOil.org

Sources: Energy Information Administration, U.S. Department of Energy (http://eia.doe.gov); and "There's a lot of life In a barrel of oil," promotional brochure published by the American Petroleum Institute, Washington, DC: API, 2002, pg 4 (http://www.api.org).